

I was alarmed at the Sinclair Broadcast Group's intention to air an anti-Kerry documentary under the guise of it being news. News coverage on television is steadily becoming more and more partisan and under the control of major media groups like Sinclair and Rupert Murdoch and Fox. These corporations use the airwaves for free and need to be held to higher standards by legislation and the FCC to serve the public good by providing unbiased news. Truthful reporting becomes endangered when media groups, like Sinclair require many local stations to air politically motivated programming.

I call on the FCC and our law makers to do your duty to protect American media from a one sided corporate take-over. Media ownership laws need to be tightened and license renewal subject to higher scrutiny.

Thank you for your consideration.
